

freecycle™

changing the world one gift at a time

msn

"It takes the concept of recycling way beyond the typical plastic containers, glass jars, cans, newspapers."

MSN Money Central, May 2004

PC MAGAZINE

Freecycle rates at the top of the "Lifestyle & Fun" category in the "Top 101 Sites" for Fall 2005.

PC Magazine, October 2005

Parents

"The world's greatest giveaway."

Parents Magazine, March 2005

USA
TODAY

"[Freecycle] to the rescue...now it appears to be inspiring a grassroots altruistic trend across the USA."

USA Today, December 2004

People

"...[Freecycle] has become an internet phenomenon..."

People Magazine, May 2004

PARADE

"Freecycle is a grassroots movement to connect people who want to swap things they no longer need... you never know what you'll find — or be able to get rid of."

Parade Magazine, May 2004

salon.com

"From each according to his junk, to each according to her need."

Salon.com, November 2003

AARP

"Perhaps best of all, the Network offers in-person one-to-one transfers making it likely that goodies will go places where they're cherished."

AARP, January 2005

The Freecycle Network™ has been frequently featured on television and radio worldwide, as well as on countless websites and blogs. We also received the EPA Environmental Award in April 2005.

